The first thing that catches the eye is not the two-cent EPS beat. It's not even the revenue that's missing, which would be bad enough, $330 million short of consensus. The item that catches my eye is the minus sign brackets that come just after printing for $18.76 billion. That's - 2% year on year. Yuck.My first thought after that... I wonder if CEO Ginni Rometty has a problem. I mean, the growth after six years. The expectations were that the company could stay there. Even more alarming in my opinion would be that the group that IBM refers to as strategic imperatives, which includes the cloud, has only pulled in $9.3 billion. That's down from the $10.1 billion Q2, and makes up less than half of the company's revenue for the quarter. A contract-making slice of a well-known company's growing business. It's ugly. Increasingly detailed, the Cognitive Solutions segment of the business, which includes Artificial Intelligence and the Watson supercomputer has seen revenue decline significantly, by about 5% year on year. The company called this seasonal and expects it to rebound in the current quarter. Hmm.What I ThinkMy my thoughts are that Wall Street has been patient enough with that name. That doesn't mean there's no possibility here. I see RBC protecting the name this morning. RBC cites stabilised margins and improved performance in the service segment. RBC also maintained the stock with an overweight rating as well as a $175 target price. Stifel Nicolas was also out this morning, acknowledging the weakness of the software, but also citing improved performance of its services. I, as an investor, am attracted to the suddenly improved 4.6% dividend yield, and I'm likely to make myself long rough at 12.5% of what I consider a full position under that name if I know what I believe to be a steal at some point today. Possible TradeI can only do that if I can get into under $132.50 later. If the shares fall to that level, I can consider pulling the trigger, but only if I can simultaneously sell a similar amount in January brings in $1.50 or more, which will drop my nest based on the $131-ish. If I can't do it, I'm just going on a trip. There's a lot of fish in the sea. At the time of publication, Stephen Guilloyle had no position in those securities. We're looking for the same qualities in jeans as we do in a car - we want a model that shows personality, entices women to get in, and yet gives us something to live comfortably in if we suddenly become homeless. Like to buy a new ride, there is a lot to consider. Here are the latest models and specs detailing well-worn stuff with just more appeal - that's why we wish Pamela Anderson, vintage cars, and our jeans from '82. That's why denim makers rinse, blast, and sand the heck out of a couple of real blues, so you don't have to spend years breaking them yourself. Customized jeans are an easy way to upgrade even a conservative wardrobe. Look for a couple of moustaches - the faded lines around the thigh area - but pretend you don't know that word. Better jeans for your body THIN Look at the slim, low-rise jeans with straight legs and slender thighs. Avoid baggy jeans, full thighs, and small, tapered bottom openings. Also miss out on the high waist, especially if you have a long torso. BIG Relaxed jeans will be the best for comfort and and space in the legs and thighs. Avoid jeans that are high-waisted, too homely, or too baggy. AVERAGE you why regular and relaxed-fit jeans are made. Most fit and styles will work for you. SHORT Look for low-to-mid-rise, straight legs, and regular or slim fits. Avoid baggy and full-fitting jeans, and anything that bouquets at the bottom. Backward-facing pockets of women definitely notice them and their kiester. Show me you're the kind of person who pays attention to detail with cool pocket details. If you can't slip your wallet in and out of the back pockets with ease, the jeans are too tight; immediately remove them with the seller. You have very own wheels with custom sized $70 plus tax and shipping, Levi's sends a pair of jeans hand-stitched exclusively to your body. The company's expanded Original Spin program now offers more styles, fabrics and cutting options - including shorts ($50) and khaki. At Levi's stores, you can get measured and then choose the exact color, style, and other details of your jeans. You can also modify a pair of your favorite existing Levi's jeans -- if you want to add an inch to your waist, for example. Sit around pantless (as always) and in less than 3 weeks the new jeans arrive. Visit www.levi.com shop locations. Color BLUES For You Light colored jeans are stylish again. (Note: Your G-n-R t-shirt still isn't.) Don't pack the dark jeans in spring and summer. Dark jeans with a color T-shirt work for casual office days and at the bar. The Shop FIXER-UPPERS Make new jeans look old and old jeans look cooler The kids think no jeans are cool if they look like they've spent 6 months in Kosovo. Instead of spending a Ben on faded and torn cotton on your kids' feet, give them an art project. Lauren Ehrenfeld, stylist for American Eagle Outfitters... Fringed cut Cut off the buttocks directly above the seams. Rub the edges of the jeans with sandpaper or a block of sand in 10 circular motions. (Concrete will do the trick too.) Tossy jeans for washing. Voilá! They're worn out. AGING For a worn look, sand for stress points: the edges of the pockets, the seat, the fly area, and the mid-thigh. CUT To turn normal-fitting jeans into a boot-cut style, cut vertically to 1 1/2-2 inches on the outside of each leg. The LAUNDRY Laundry instructions for the desired lookNEW Wash alone in cold water, inside out, with a non-chloric detergent. Add 1 cup of vinegar for each wash to maintain the blue color. Worn Wash often, the load of denim items - the excitement of other jeans helps cause wear and tear. Use a fabric softener. UNIQUE Wear new jeans several times or even for several months before washing. Natural abrasions appear in normal wear.
